GAYNOR NAMED AS NEW MAYOR

Tammany Loses All Other Offices On Its Ticket In New York City.

TOM JOHNSON LOST IN CLEVELAND

Honey Defeated In San Francisco By Large Majority-- Other Election Returns In Brief.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

New York, Nov. 3.—William J. Gaynor, Democrat, was elected mayor of Greater New York by a plurality estimated at 72,000 over Otto T. Doernard, the Republican-People candidate. William R. Hearst, Independent, ran third in the mayoralty race, his vote falling about 30,000 below that of Doernard.

The vote on mayor, with 21 precincts to hear from, follows:

Gaynor	216,715
Doernard	175,402
Hearst	150,560

Tammany's New York county ticket, including district attorney and sheriff, has been swept to defeat, although the early returns indicated that it had pulled through. The Fusionists also have elected their city ticket—the comptroller and president of the board of aldermen, and all borough presidents.

Tom Johnson Defeated.
Cleveland, O., Nov. 3.—Tom Johnson, the picturesque mayor of Cleveland, has been defeated by a decisive majority by Herman Haahr (Rep.), Haahr, the first Republican to be elected mayor in ten years, declared that his election was due to disaffection of the people with the methods of handling city business. The election of Haahr is believed to mean a certain settlement of the long street railway war which Johnson began eight years ago when he demanded a three-cent rate of fare.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 3.—The constitutional amendment disfranchising the negro is still in doubt, the Baltimore vote being "strongly" against the amendment, while returns from the interior indicate increasing strength for the amendment.

Whitlock Is Re-Elected.
Toledo, O., Nov. 3.—Grand Whitlock, author and political successor of the late "Golden Rule" Mayor Samuel M. Jones, was elected mayor for a third term. Practically the entire independent ticket was elected with him, including council.

Marshall Elected In Columbus.
Columbus, O., Nov. 3.—Election returns show that George S. Marshall (Rep.) is elected mayor over Frank R. Vance (Dem.) by 3,500 to 1,000. The entire Republican city ticket was elected.

Searcy Is Re-Elected.
Portsmouth, O., Nov. 3.—Mayor Searcy (Dem.) was re-elected by 600 over Gustin (Rep.).

Democrats Lose Hamilton.
Hamilton, O., Nov. 3.—A. Rothwell (Rep.) was elected mayor by 300 over present Mayor Strauss (Dem.).

Gov. Pothier Is Re-Elected.
Providence, R. I., Nov. 3.—The Republican state ticket was elected by increased majorities. Gov. Pothier's lead over Arnold (Dem.) will be from 2,000 to 5,000.

New Jersey Returns Slow.
Trenton, N. J., Nov. 3.—The returns indicate that the Republicans will retain control of both branches of the legislature.

In Jersey City Mayor Wittmann (Dem.) has been re-elected by a large majority.

The Democrats have elected a mayor in Bayonne for the first time in 13 years.

The Democrats carried Trenton by a large majority.

Head Elected Mayor.
Louisville, Ky., Nov. 3.—Though returns from 30 scattered precincts may reduce the plurality slightly, indications are that W. O. Head, Democrat, candidate, has won over Mayor Grinstead, Republican candidate for re-election, by 2,000.

Rockefeller's Fight Futile.
John D. Rockefeller's fight to make Mount Pleasant a prohibition township resulted in five of the six districts going "wet" by about 200 majority.

Mr. Rockefeller had a meeting of his men on Sunday and advised them that they should all vote for the "dry" end of the local option question, but the results show that they did not take his advice.

Giboney Is Defeated.
Philadelphia, Nov. 3.—Samuel P. Hohn (Rep.) was elected district attorney over D. Clarence Giboney, representing the Law and Order society and the reform element. Hohn's majority exceeded that in a previous reform campaign, being estimated at upward of 30,000. The state elections, for treasurer, auditor general and judge of the supreme court, resulted in the usual Republican majority.

Draper Is Re-Elected.
Boston, Nov. 3.—Late returns indicate that Gov. Eben S. Draper (Rep.) had been re-elected over James H. Vanehey (Dem.) by a greatly-reduced majority, estimated at 10,000. Draper's majority last year was 60,000, Democrat Carry Virginia.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 3.—Early returns indicate that the Democratic ticket, headed by Judge Mann for governor, had been elected by about the usual majority.

Liquor Interests Get Jolt.
Springfield, Ill., Nov. 3.—The liquor interests have received a hard jolt in central and southern Illinois. Almost a clean sweep was made by the foes of the liquor traffic in the 23 precincts in which the local option proposition was submitted.

The following towns went "dry": Chandler, Petersburg, Athens, Tullahoma, Oakford, Jacksonville, Merodale, South Winchester, Naples, Exeter, Crater, Hannburg, Richwood, Hardin, Conterville, Swanwick, Jonesboro, Anna, Golconda, Mount City, and Mt. Carmel.

These went "wet": Baldwin, Duquoin, Puckneyville and Southwest. Jacksonville Goes "Dry."

Jacksonville, Ill., Nov. 3.—In one of the bitterest and hardest fought election battles ever witnessed in Jacksonville the local option forces repulsed their victory of two years ago. Jacksonville went "dry" by 203 majority while two years ago the majority of the "drys" was 774.

Shank Defeats Gaus.
Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 3.—Lewis Shank (Rep.) was elected mayor over Charles A. Gaus (Dem.). The temperance issue has figured extensively in the campaign.

Knotts Is Elected.
Gary, Ind., Nov. 3.—Thomas F. Knotts probably was elected first mayor of Gary, Ind., by a majority of 125. After a day of frequent rioting, which kept the 15,000 inhabitants of the steel city keyed to a high pitch of excitement, the day ended without any casualties.

Fort Wayne Goes Republican.
Fort Wayne, Ind., Nov. 3.—Jesse Grice (Rep.) was elected mayor by 831 majority. The Republicans also elected police judge, city clerk and majority of councilmen.

Wabash, Ind., Nov. 3.—Dr. James Wilson (Dem.) was elected mayor over Dr. Moore (Rep.) by a majority of 450. The entire ticket is Democratic.

Tuhey Is Muncie Mayor.
Muncie, Ind., Nov. 3.—Edward Tuhey (Dem.) defeated Dr. G. W. Kemper (Rep.) for mayor. The entire Democratic ticket was elected.

Dugan Wins In Lafayette.
Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 3.—George H. Dugan (Dem.) was for the third time elected mayor of Lafayette, carrying every ward in the city, over Henry Overesch (Rep.).

Democrats Elect Mayor.
Bedford, Ind., Nov. 3.—Complete returns from five precincts out of eight allow Albert J. Fields, Democratic candidate, 77 majority for mayor.

Goshen Is Divided.
Goshen, Ind., Nov. 3.—The Democrats elect Spohn for mayor, clerk and two councilmen. Republicans elect treasurer and five councilmen.

Democratic by 400.
Washington, Ind., Nov. 3.—The Democrats carried the city by 400.

South Bend Elects Democrat.
South Bend, Ind., Nov. 3.—Charles L. Goutz (Dem.) is elected mayor of South Bend over D. B. J. "After" (Rep.) by 1,500 majority. John Herzog (Dem.) was elected mayor of Mishawaka over Fred Eberhardt (Rep.) by a small majority.

Honey Is Defeated.
San Francisco, Nov. 3.—F. J. Honey was defeated for district attorney by a large majority. He led in the recent graft investigations and was bitterly opposed by those whom he had fought as prosecutor. Fleckert, the Republican, who defeated Honey, formerly was attached to the prosecutor's office.

Patrick Henry McCarthy was elected mayor by about 2,000 plurality over Crocker (Rep.) and Leland (Dem.), who ran about even.

Salt Lake Goes American.
Salt Lake City, Nov. 3.—Almost complete returns show Bransford, (American), is elected mayor over Wallace (Fusion) and Murdoch (Rep.) by 2,250.

Republicans Regain Nebraska.
Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 3.—With returns as incomplete as to hardly warrant a definite estimate, indications are that Lancaster county had elected the entire Republican county ticket, gave one office, by majorities much less than two years ago, but with a Republican gain over a year ago (Bryan year).

A ROYAL WELCOME EXTENDED TO TAFT BY BIRMINGHAM, ALA.

City Gay With Bunting and Flags For Reception Of President—Goes Into Georgia Tomorrow.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 3.—Birmingham was a mass of bunting and flags today in honor of the visit of President Taft and his party. The streets and building decorations were the most elaborate seen here since the great reunion of Confederate veterans.

The President began the day's program immediately after breakfast by taking a drive about the city and delivering a public address from a stand erected in Capital park. At luncheon he was the guest of the business men's organization of Birmingham.

Thousands of visitors turned out to welcome the President. All the incoming trains during the forenoon had extra coaches crowded to the doors. Every appearance of the Chief Executive on the streets was the signal for enthusiastic applause from the multitude.

Macon Awails President.
Macon, Ga., Nov. 3.—The Macon people have completed great preparations for the reception of President Taft, who is to be the guest of this city tomorrow forenoon. The streets are taking on a gala appearance in anticipation of the coming of the distinguished visitor. The President will take breakfast at the home of Congressman Bartlett and will then be driven to the State Fair grounds, where he is to deliver an address. The military organizations of Macon will escort the President to and from the fair grounds.

Organize To Fight
PELLAGRA DISEASE

Health Officers and Prominent Medical Men Discuss Prevention
Of Disease.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Columbia, S. C., Nov. 3.—The national conference called to investigate the widespread prevalence of pellagra, its cause and treatment, assembled in this city today for a two days' session.

The attendance included several hundred health officers, medical representatives, machine hospital service officers, neurotic experts and other medical men of prominence from many parts of the country.

The conference, for which preparations have been going forward for over a month, is attracting widespread attention. Since the Secretary of the Treasury in his annual report last year uttered a warning against the spread of pellagra many state boards of health have investigated the disease and have made alarming reports to the Federal government. The medical view of its origin inclines strongly to the belief that it is caused by the eating of corn, usually diagnosed under some other name, and it is now believed that the great mortality in Arkansasville and other Southern prisons during the civil war was due to it.

A recent outbreak in Illinois disclosed that many cases existed in the State Insane Asylum in Peoria. A low estimate of the cases in the United States is now 5,000. The South has particularly suffered.

At the opening session of the conference this afternoon, following addresses of welcome and responses, papers were presented as follows:

"Pellagra as a National Public Health Problem," Assistant Surgeon General J. W. Kerr, of the United States marine hospital service; "Pellagra as a National Public Health Problem," Surgeon C. H. Layton, of the United States marine hospital service; "Economic Factors of the Pellagra Problem in South Carolina," E. J. Watson, commissioner of agriculture, commerce and industries of South Carolina; "Pellagra, Its Recognition in Illinois and the Means Taken to Control It," Dr. George A. Zoller, superintendent of the Illinois State Hospital for the Insane; "Some Differential Points in the Skin Lesions of Pellagra," Dr. Isadore Dyer, dean of

Delta Upsilon's Celebrate Seventy-fifth Anniversary Of Founding
In Boston.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Boston, Mass., Nov. 3.—Members of Delta Upsilon Fraternity have gathered in Boston, from all parts of the country to take part in their annual national convention and to join in a celebration of the seventy-fifth anniversary of the founding of the society.

The delegates will be in session three days, during which time they will be entertained by the Harvard, Tufts and Institute of Technology chapters.

Delta Upsilon is one of the largest of the Greek letter fraternities, having a membership of nearly 10,000. It was founded at Williams College in 1834, as an anti-secrecy society, by a group of non-secrecy students, which included Stephen J. Field, afterward judge of the United States Supreme Court, and James A. Garfield, afterward President.

In seven years the society has spread to all parts of the United States. It now has chapters at Brown, Harvard, Union, Cornell, McGill, Case, Lafayette, Pennsylvania, Swarthmore, Michigan, Western Reserve, Miami, Northwestern, Wisconsin, De Paul, Minnesota, Nebraska, Chicago, Ohio State, Illinois, Belmont, Stanford, California and a number of other leading colleges and universities of the United States and Canada.

Waterway Project RECALLS OLD PLAN

Early Pioneers Planned to Connect
Milwaukee With Gulf by Way of Rock River.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Madison, Wis., Nov. 3.—The deep waterway project for the Mississippi, now the subject of nationwide interest, recalls an early-day dream of a canal to connect Lake Michigan with the Mississippi river by way of the Rock river in Wisconsin.

The enterprise was the "Milwaukee and Rock River Ship Canal, Wisconsin," and was intended, had it been pushed to fruition, to run from Milwaukee to Watertown, where it would join the Rock.

Frank Worthington of this city has an interesting relic connected with the starting of the project in the form of a certified copy of a list of lands given by the government to the territory of Wisconsin, for the purpose of adding in opening this canal. The land was situated in what is now the corporate limits of Oconomowoc, and was granted to his father, Theodore Worthington, and contained 700 acres.

The government gave land to the canal company for a right-of-way, and when the project died out, the land was reverted to the state, which in turn sold it to individuals.

Swiss sold it to individuals. The land was granted by the government for canal purposes in 1828, when Martin Van Buren was president. The land patent was issued to Andrews, July 17, 1836, when Zachary Taylor was in the chair.

THE EASTERN LAYMEN GATHER IN NEW YORK FOR EVANGELISTIC CONFERENCE

One Of Most Important Religious
Meetings Of The East Of Year
Opened Today.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

New York, Nov. 3.—The Laymen's Evangelistic Conference, which had its opening today at the Marble Collegiate church, is regarded as one of the most important religious gatherings of the year. The call for the gathering was signed by fifty of the most prominent and active laymen of the East, including leading laymen of New York, Buffalo, Pittsburgh, Washington, York, Buffalo, Pittsburgh, Washington, Baltimore and Boston.

The proceedings will last three days and will be wholly in the interest of evangelistic work by laymen.

VETERANS OF ARMY OF TENNESSEE MEET IN COLUMBUS TODAY

Soldier's Society Holds Thirty-Ninth
Reunion—Georgia Daughters Of Confederacy Meet.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Columbus, O., Nov. 3.—The thirty-ninth annual reunion of the Society of the Army of the Tennessee opened at the Grand Southern hotel in this city today with a large attendance including many men and women of national prominence.

Governor Harrison welcomed the society on behalf of the State of Ohio and Mayor Bond on behalf of the City of Columbus.

After appropriate response had been made for the visitors the annual address was delivered by Gen. James G. Wilson, Governor and Mrs. Harrison held a reception in honor of the visitors this afternoon. Tonight the reunion banquet takes place and tomorrow the business sessions will be concluded.

Daughters Of Confederacy.
West Point, Ga., Nov. 3.—The fifteenth annual convention of the Georgia Daughters of the Confederacy began today for a session of three days with an attendance of delegates representing all of the chapters in the State. The initial session this morning was given over to the exchange of greetings, the address of the president, Miss Alice Duxter of Atlanta, and the reports of the other officers.

Following a luncheon given by the West Point Woman's Club the delegates reassembled for the further transaction of business. Splendid entertainment has been provided for the visitors by the Fort Tyler chapter of this city.

WILL DAVIDSON DECLINE TO RUN?

TALK IN MADISON HE WILL NOT SEEK OFFICE AGAIN.

IS TO ENTER BUSINESS

This is the Gossip About the State
House at the Present Time.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Madison, Wis., Nov. 3.—Friends of Governor Davidson, who have been relying upon the executive to be a candidate for another nomination and election, notwithstanding his persistent attitude of reluctance, profess to be losing hope that his mind can be changed. He has so determinedly declared that the executive office has no further attraction for him to overwhelm his desire to re-enter business and lay up some material fortune against oncoming years, that those who at first smiled at his declaration are now impressed that the governor is not playing possum. Those who would like to have Governor Davidson run again have gone so far as to urge him in letters and personal visits to make no declaration that would prevent him from gracefully yielding to pressure and at an opportune time becoming a candidate.

While the governor has probably not made any positive utterance that could be said to constitute burning his bridges, there has been no occasion at which he might have made such a purely positive announcement, but he has nevertheless to every caller who spoke of politics declared his unwillingness to run for governor again, and his strong purpose to return to the mercantile career which was interrupted years ago by the call to legislative service which ran into more than a decade of continuous holding of state office. He says he is tired of it, that he has been unable to save money, that he prefers domesticity and quiet life to the limelight, and he frankly declares he has had his share of the honors, or has done his share of the work, whichever way one may wish to look upon elective public office.

CHANGES LIKELY IN THE SUPREME COURT

Death Has Removed Justices Peckham and Harlan Fuller and Drews Have Reached Advanced Age.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 3.—The death of Justice Peckham, has made certain that the reconstruction of the United States Supreme Court is not far distant. Justice White, who has been on the supreme bench since 1894, reached his sixty-fourth birthday today, and consequently has a number of years to serve before he reaches the age of retirement. Justices White, Holmes, Day and Moody are the younger of the supreme court, although Holmes is sixty-four, Day sixty and Justice Moody, who is seventy, is perhaps critically ill. The four younger members may reasonably be regarded as fixtures on the supreme bench for some years to come.

The age and health of the remaining members make it reasonably certain that President Taft will have an opportunity before long to fill several vacancies in the highest court in addition to that caused by the death of Justice Peckham. Melville W. Fuller, the chief justice, is seventy-six years old, and Justice Harlan is but a few months his junior. Justice Brewer, the next "old man" on the bench, will be seventy-three his next birthday.

The gossip outside the court is that Brewer and Harlan have entered into compact to leave the court at the same time. One was appointed as a Democrat, the other as a Republican. If Chief Justice Fuller should step down at the same time, President Taft would have an opportunity to appoint one Democrat and two Republicans, in addition to the successor of Justice Peckham.

The West and South will probably furnish the new justices when Fuller, Harlan and Brewer retire. Justice Harlan was appointed from Kentucky and Justice Brewer from Kentucky. The presumption is that in choosing successors to these men President Taft will look to the Ohio Valley for one man and to the Mississippi country for the other.

BILLIARD EXPERTS TO PLAY FOR TITLE

De Oro, Holder Of Three-Cushion Title
And Daly Of Chicago, Begin

DISCUSSES FORM OF THE NEW LAW

CITY ATTORNEY MAXFIELD CONTRIBUTES SECOND ARTICLE ON COMMISSION RULE.

TAKEN UP BY SECTIONS

Treats With Each Section in Detail Giving New Idea of the Law for Readers.

In his second article on the proposed rule by commission which is being discussed generally by citizens of Janesville, City Attorney Maxfield takes up the state law in detail and makes a synopsis of the proposed changes that would follow should it be adopted. It is written as follows:

In the discussion of Chapter 418, Laws of 1909, providing for the government of cities by commission in Wisconsin, I shall subdivide the topics into four sub-topics.

First: The manner of reorganizing cities under Chapter 418, Laws of 1909.

Second: The manner of electing the commissioners and their terms of office.

Third: The powers and duties of the commissioners.

Fourth: What effect the reorganization of cities under Chapter 418 has upon the old city government.

Cities are reorganized under Chapter 418, Laws of 1909, by a petition being presented to the mayor, signed by at least twenty-five per cent of all voters cast for mayor at the last city election, when he shall issue a proclamation, submitting the question of the reorganization as a city under this chapter at a special election to be held at a time specified therein within two months after such petition is filed; if a majority of votes cast favor the adoption of the plan, the city clerk shall certify the same to the secretary of state, when the secretary shall issue a notice of election in accordance with this chapter. If the majority of votes cast do not favor this plan of municipal government, then the old form of city government continues, and the question cannot again be submitted until the expiration of one year.

On the first Tuesday in April, succeeding the adoption of this plan, a mayor and two commissioners shall be elected, all candidates for mayor and commissioners are to be nominated at large by a primary election, held two weeks prior to the general city election, and qualified elector, (long residence not being required, but he must be a resident during his term of office and who does not hold a license for the sale of intoxicating liquors, or who is not interested directly or indirectly in any public utility, or in any contract job or materials furnished to said city, wishing to become a candidate for any one of these offices, shall file with the city clerk, at least twenty days before such primary election, a statement of his candidacy together with a verified petition, signed by not less than twenty-five electors thereupon the city clerk shall place such name upon the official primary ballot, but under no party designation or style. The two candidates for mayor receiving the largest number of votes cast, shall be declared nominated. Candidates for this office, the four candidates for commissioner, receiving the largest number of votes, shall be declared nominated candidates for the office of commissioner. The two candidates for mayor and the four for commissioner, names are to be placed upon the official ballot to be voted for at the general city election, the candidate for mayor and the two for commissioner receiving the highest number of votes shall be elected. Their terms of office shall commence on the third Tuesday in April, the mayor to hold his office for six years and receive $3,000 per year, the commissioner two and four years, respectively, to be determined by lot after the election, and receive a salary of $2,500 per year. These three men constitute the commission and thereafter one commissioner shall be elected every two years, whose term of office shall be for six years.

H. L. MAXFIELD.

HAVE ORGANIZED A STOCK INSURANCE

So-Called Stringent Insurance Laws in State Bring Into Life New Style Company.

Despite the cries of the old line mutual life insurance companies that that can not exist in Wisconsin under the existing laws, a new company known as the Wisconsin State Life Insurance company has been incorporated at Madison and is now in process of organization. It is particularly of interest owing to the fact that it has adopted the stock idea of insurance, which means that the insured receives the benefits in the shape of smaller premiums which are not estimated on the basis of dividends. In plain words it eliminates chance from the policy and brings insurance onto a sound basis such as has been advocated for many years by those who have opposed the old mutual ideas the main feature of which is that dividends are paid when premiums are paid by reduction of amount of premiums.

Prominent men throughout the southern part of the state are interested in this company, among them being James A. Freer, present secretary of state; Judge Arthur L. Sanborn of the United States Federal court; Dr. Phil Fox, John A. Aylward, Joseph M. Hawks, Adolph Meekes, Joseph M. Boyd, all presidents of Madison banks, James E. Conklin, St. A. Brandt, A. G. Schneiderman, Stanley G. Hawks and Frank W. Cantwell, all prominent business men of Madison. The company has a capital stock of $200,000 with a surplus of a similar amount and also takes over the business of the Wisconsin Life Insurance Company a former Mutual company.

Chicago and North-Western ENORMOUS AMOUNT

OF FREIGHT MOVED

More Freight Handled at New Yards Sunday Than Ever Before on One Day in This City.

Some interesting figures with regard to the amount of traffic handled by the Wisconsin Division last Sunday have just been made public by Superintendent G. W. Dalby and incidentally show that Janesville is more than holding its own in comparison with other points. During the twenty-four hours, beginning at midnight Saturday and ending at midnight Sunday, the Wisconsin Division moved 4,815 cars, 1,800 more than any other division on the road. Janesville's importance in this great traffic movement is shown by the fact that during this time 700 cars on the Wisconsin Division, 500 on the Madison Division and 300 on the Northern Wisconsin were handled in this city. Switchmen, on account of the press of work, were unable to get dinner but snatched a hasty lunch while coupling cars. During the day 50 freight trains passed through the city, going both ways on the Wisconsin Division. Trains made up and sent out numbered 27, and to add to the difficulty of the work the 500 cars from the Madison Division came into the yards after twelve o'clock on Sunday.

At the present time it is feared that, because of the great number of stock trains going through which makes it necessary to use nearly every available man, that other freight will pile up in the yards and block traffic. Last night, between the hours of 8:15 P. M. and 7:45 A. M., seventeen extra cars were sent out, ten of which were stock trains. These trains all had between 19 and 35 cars, the lowest number being dragged by a passenger engine. In connection with the running time for stock, L. M. Dalby has issued a bulletin in which he states that the running time between 8, Janesville and Mayfield has been set at 2 hours and 25 minutes, and that engineers should make every effort compatible with safety, to make the run in that time.

PASSENGER ENGINE RIVAL FREIGHT LOCOMOTIVES IN ABILITY TO PULL TRAINS

With reference to the new passenger engines ordered by the North-Western, it is stated that they will be able to drag a load seven per cent heavier than the present engines of the N. W. Fourteen Pullman sleepers will be placed behind these new locomotives and even with this drag the engines will be able to reduce the present running time. In addition to the new passenger engines, twenty-five of which have been ordered, the road has placed an order for twenty-five switch-engines and one hundred freight locomotives, all of which will be ready for service in a short time. One of the new engines was on exhibition in Chicago several weeks ago.

ROUTE OF PASSENGER TRAIN MAY BE CHANGED

It has been learned from a reliable source that Conductor J. J. Dull's run, number 528, will be changed soon. Instead of running from Madison to Chicago, via Hanover, the train will be sent by way of Janesville. Last summer a change was made in the schedule and 528 was sent through Hanover, but considerable protest has been made and it is likely that the route formerly taken will be resumed. It is stated that the change contemplated was decided upon too late to be incorporated in the new timetable but will be made in the one following.

NEW HOOD AND STACK IN BLACKSMITH SHOP

To improve atmospheric conditions in the blacksmith shop, which until recently have been very bad, a new twenty-eight-foot hood and stack have been installed over the forge. The change was recommended by Albert Blum and the stack built by H. H. Gardner. It is said that the benefits will not be confined to the shop alone for the moral atmosphere suffered also as a result of the "soot."

Engineer Dudley and Fireman Hess went south on a stock extra last night at 8:30 with engine 320.

Switchman James Cochran, who has been off for some time, is working today in the downtown yards.

Math Mathison, a new fireman, has completed his student trips, and went on the extra board this morning.

Engineer Cole and Fireman Grant came up on 548 last night with engine 327 and went on the board.

James Gardner is laying off on account of injuries sustained in falling from an engine.

Engineer Bluffitt and Fireman Dalton went south on a stock extra last night at 8:45 with engine 1400.

Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul.

While working near an engine at the elinder pit this morning at 10:30 boiler-maker's helper Herb Cochran tried to break the fall of a heavy iron rod with his foot and was forced to be helped into the engine room for repairs.

Engine 1257, which went out double-headed on 21 yesterday morning, broke the left cylinder-head at Broadhead and came back to Janesville on one side in charge of Engineers Smith and Hillmeyer. The same crew double-headed number 7 out with engine 1251 and came back double-headed on 163 this morning with engine 1271.

Fireman Duxstad is on the switch-engine today with Engineer Mead.

Committee at Courthouse: Committee No. 13 of the board of supervisors, which deals with the claims of the sheriff and other officers, was in session at the courthouse today. The members are: John A. Paul of Milton, Charles More of Magnolia, and J. L. Bear. The Saddle's Rellor commission, consisting of Simon Smith of Beloit, A. C. Gray of Evansville, and L. M. Nelson also met to make up the report for the year. The last disbursement was on Oct. 20.

DEPARTMENT CALLED TO RESCUE A HORSE

Beloit Firemen Had Trouble in Rescuing Farmer's Steer From Water Ditch.

Beloit, Nov. 2.—A horse driven by a farmer, Adolph Ovenson of Nowark, got in a waterworks ditch near the new Catholic church at ten o'clock last night and someone turned in a fire alarm and called the firemen to rescue the animal. The excitement of an ordinary fire did not compare with that in getting the horse out of his trouble.

The police were called yesterday to look after a case of alleged cruelty to animals. Some boys attempted to make a zebra of a white mule and streaked the animal with tar. Kind-hearted people believed that the mule would suffer and called the police. The officers think that the coat of tar will not add to the humiliation of the mule's life and are letting nature care for the coat.

John B. Benton, a former resident of this community, is dead at Ballin, Oregon. His remains will be brought to this city for burial.

The Treble Clef gave the first concert of the season last night. The club is in fine condition and expects to have many fine musical events during the winter.

The Beloit Water, Gas and Electric company are out with a sensational statement today declaring that they will ask the court to order the state re-commission to cut off all the city's use of water, unless the city pays back rentals. The city is holding up pay for rentals on the grounds that it is not known what the city is to pay for the service until the rate commission gives its decision. The company claims that it is the business of the city to pay the old rates until a new rate is fixed, and asks that the rule that would apply to an individual be made to apply to the city in the matter of shutting off the water supply. If individuals refused to pay his water rentals he would be deprived of the use of water. Why not the city? But the council for the city any conditions are different in the city's case. Another interesting chapter in the great water war case is to be written.

OBITUARY.

John Fuller.
Mrs. Anna E. Fuller, third grade teacher at the Lincoln school, received word yesterday of the death of her father, John Fuller, in Whitewater. Mr. Fuller died very suddenly of heart failure, passing away just after he had eaten his breakfast. John Fuller, who is an only daughter, departed immediately for her home. The deceased was seventy-four years of age and is also survived by a wife, (to was one of the prominent men of the city of Whitewater. Notice of the funeral will be given later.

Levi H. Hubbell.
The funeral services of Levi H. Hubbell will be held Thursday morning from the late home at ten o'clock. Interment will be made in the Edgemoor cemetery.

RUSK LYCEUM GUESTS OF PROFESSOR AND MRS. RAHR

High School Instructor and Wife Entertained at Enjoyable Halloween Party Monday Evening.

The members of the Rusk Lyceum society of the high school were most delightfully entertained by Professor and Mrs. E. F. Rahr at their home on Harrison street Monday evening. In place of the regular meeting of the society held at the school, the boys met at the Rahr home and held their business meeting, which was followed by a short and interesting program. The rest of the evening was devoted to the genuine enjoyment of a Halloween party. Halloween games were played, Bruce Joffe, Donald Roest and Allison Burdick capturing the honors of the evening.

NEW TREE DIGGER BIG IMPROVEMENT

Kellogg's Nurseries Use Improved Labor-Saving Machine in Handling Trees.

Although there are still many ways, as yet undiscovered in which nursery stock can be improved by grafting and scientific care, the limit has almost been reached in the improvement of machinery for handling the stock that is ready for shipment and planting the grafts. There are several planters or trenchers manufactured that will adequately set out the small shoots with less labor and more expeditiously than the methods now generally used, but the machine is too costly to make its adoption profitable.

There is one machine, however, used at the Kellogg Nurseries, that has done more than any one invention to simplify and make easy the work of digging the matured stock. This is known as the "Stark Tree Digger." It consists of two heavy beams, twenty-five inches apart, similar to plow beams set parallel, and is raised or lowered by means of two levers at the rear which connect with two sets of small wheels. Between the beams, a half circle of heavy sharpened steel is set, and this can be lowered until it is sixteen inches under the surface of the ground. Eight horses are attached to the digger. Four on each side of the row of trees in order that none may be broken. For the same reason it is necessary to dispense with the usual form of whiffletree, and attach the four horses on each side to two small whiffletrees between which the young trees pass.

GEORGE J. KELLOGG, THE FOUNDER

VIEW OF THREE-YEAR PLUM TREES—M. S. KELLOGG IN THE FOREGROUND

When used, the digger enters the ground in a manner not unlike a plow but does not turn a furrow. Instead, it breaks up the earth in a half circle under and on each side of the row of trees, leaving them standing but with the earth around the roots so loose that the trees can be pulled up with little effort. It also cuts the long roots so that no further trimming is necessary when the stock is packed.

To give a general idea of the labor-saving ability of the tree digger, Mr. Kellogg states that under favorable conditions, it can accomplish as much in a single day as eight men can do in ten days. With long rows of trees to work on, the machine can loosen and make ready for pulling, 40,000 young trees daily.

During the first years that the Kellogg Nurseries were in operation, it trees and plants. Extraordinary care is necessary in this work and only the skilled men are allowed to do the planting. It is estimated that from 80,000 to 100,000 apple grafts, taken from sturdy young trees, are not out every year. Furthermore, about 25,000 plum grafts, and thousands of pear and cherry grafts are also planted. Five acres are given to raspberries, five to blackberries and from eight to twelve acres to strawberries each year. Besides these fully 100,000 currant cuttings are planted.

In carrying out the regular detail of the work four teams of horses are employed and often extra teams are secured to aid in digging trees. In digging fruit trees eight horses are required on the tree digger, and in digging shade trees ten and even twelve horses are used.

This constant attention is given the stock for years before it is ready to be sold and set out in the individual fruit farm or garden.

Mr. Kellogg, the present proprietor, takes particular pride in furnishing to his constantly increasing trade, the highest grade of hardy northern grown stock that can be produced. Most of the business done is by mail orders, large shipments being made to all parts of the United States. Last season shipments were made in a territory extending to Massachusetts on the East, Washington state on the West, Canada on the North, and Texas and Cuba on the South. However, many sales are made each season to those who demand the best and most reliable goods obtainable.

Speaking of the nursery stock, Mr.

IMPROVED TREE-DIGGER IN USE AT KELLOGG'S NURSERY

took between two and three weeks to remove six or eight thousand trees from the ground and handle them. At the present time, with modern appliances, this can easily be done in a very few days.

The nurseries where this machine is now in constant use, were established in 1864 by George J. Kellogg and are conducted today by his son, M. S. Kellogg. Fully 80 acres of land are set Always six and as many as thirty men are needed in conducting the hundred and one tasks about the nursery grounds.

Four storage cellars house the plants that must be placed indoors. These cellars cover an area of from five thousand to six thousand square feet, but this area is being increased every year as the business grows.

During the summer every precau-

Kellogg said: "Others can grow stock at less expense to themselves, but none can grow stock that gives a buyer better satisfaction. We grow stock that is intended for this climate. We acclimate all our stock in the growing and tending of it, and it grows hardy and strong, admirably adapted to the climate of the northern states. For long life and bearing qualities the stock supplied from the Kellogg nurseries has long held an enviable reputation.

The yearly sales of this concern will aggregate considerably over a million trees and plants each year. Furthermore, ten thousand grape vines, thousands of roses and flowering shrubs and quantities of ornamental stock are shipped annually. Hundreds of shade trees are grown and often carload lots of these are shipped to nurseries and other large buyers.

It is a few cities that can boast of an extensive nursery as the Kellogg nurseries lying practically at its door. Within a mile of Janesville, Mr. M. S. Kellogg and his father before him have been working, planning, and expanding until now, the business started over 60 years ago, is carried on all over this country on an enormous scale. The name Kellogg stands for quality in nursery stock nationally.

THEATRE

"Mandy Green" is the title of a play that has scored a success this season unprecedented in recent years. It is to be given here in all its entirety by the original company which first carried it on to prosperity and popularity. It will be produced here next Friday, Nov. 5, at Myers theatre and it is certain to play to a packed house.

"Mandy Green" is a comedy drama; there is a touch of tragedy in it that excites to an intense pitch the emotions of the spectators, with all ending happily. The play is livened up by the excellent comedy and when the spectators are not in tears over the misfortune of the beautiful young heroine and the shadows that appear to threaten her future, they are laughing and applauding uproariously at the funny antics of the comedians. Some new and exceedingly clever songs and specialties are introduced at appropriate stages of the play, a vast amount of new and magnificent scenery is used for the impressive stage pictures presented in each of the four acts of the piece.—Adv.

Readers of Augustin J. Evans' famous novel, "St. Elmo," and they are legion, will be interested in the announcement that Grace Hayward's authentic dramatization is to be presented at the Myers theatre next Saturday, matinee and evening.

The play is one of the genuine successes of the year. This is not surprising as the book has long been recognized as a standard of fiction. It was written many years ago but is equally as popular as in our grandparents' time. In fact, book-sellers say that the sales for the past three years have exceeded that of any recent work of fiction. It has been translated in a dozen languages and although typically American in thought and action, has a tremendous vogue abroad.

Miss Hayward's dramatization adheres very closely to the story of the book and to this is probably due, in large measure, the instantaneous success of the play.

In point of box-office receipts and public interest "St. Elmo" has been a surprise to everyone. It has offered additional proof, if indeed any was needed, that American playgoers want a wholesome well-told story and will take it every time in preference to risqué importations.

A company of unusual excellence will present the play in this city.—Adv.

PELLAGRA CONFERENCE OPENS.

Cause, Spread and Treatment of Disease Will Be Discussed.

Columbia, S. C., Nov. 3.—A national conference on pellagra opened here today and will continue through tomorrow. The cause, spread and treatment of the disease, which only recently has been called to the attention of the general public in this country, will be discussed. The program provides for addresses and papers by investigators and men eminent in the science of medicine representing France, Mexico, the West Indies, the federal government and several of the states. It is believed the conference will result in measures that will check what has become a mild epidemic in some parts of the United States.

GIRL REFUSES HIM; SUICIDES

Secretary to Indiana Governor Kills Himself Because of Love Affair.

Goshen, Ind., Nov. 3.—George Baker, two weeks ago appointed corresponding secretary to Gov. Marshall, committed suicide at the Hotel Warsaw by pulling the bed clothing over his head and inhaling the fumes from a two-ounce bottle of chloroform. The man had planned to marry Miss Helen Pank, her friends declare, but the engagement was declared off because Baker drank.

Baker was 27 years old. He was Democratic chairman of Kosciusko county. At one time he was private secretary to Will Chapman, the evangelist.

Army of the Tennessee Reunion. Columbus, O., Nov. 3.—Columbus is full of veterans of the civil war today who are attending the thirty-ninth reunion of the Society of the Army of the Tennessee. The first meeting was held this morning, and this afternoon the Ohio Commandery of the Loyal Legion held its stated meeting. To-night the annual banquet will be given at the Great Southern hotel. Tomorrow night the reunion closes with a big public session in the board of trade auditorium. The governor and mayor will make brief talks and the reunion address will be delivered by Gen. James Grant Wilson. Among the other speakers will be Mrs. John A. Logan and Capt. James Tanner.

A ORK OF PHILANTHROPY

In the fall of 1882, Rev. J. G. Lemmon, then the pastor of the Baptist church of Council Bluffs, Iowa, organized a department, in connection with his church work, to give aid to the poor of the city, the numerous calls upon him often occupying him until far into the night.

This work grew until it assumed proportions, and was so encroaching upon the pastor's time, that it became a problem of how best to divide his hours between the poor work and his congregation.

In December, 1882, while the work for the poor was at its height, there came to the pastor's residence one bitter cold night, a man with his three daughters.

"Mr. Lemmon," he said, "I have come to you to ask you to take my three girls. Their mother is dead, and I am a wreck from drink and unable to care for them."

Mr. Lemmon explained carefully and tenderly to him that he had no way of caring for the girls. That he was simply dispensing clothing, food, and medicine to such as were needy and worthy, and that his time otherwise was his church.

Overcome with grief and disappointment the man cried: "If you do not receive them, they will have to go to the poorhouse, and God only knows what will become of them there."

This touched the pastor's heart, and he took the three girls into his own home, and his wife, burdened as all minister's wives are, tenderly cared for them.

From this small beginning developed the Christian Home Orphanage, for the pastor was so impressed with the importance of the work that he soon resigned his pastorate and devoted his life to the service. At the time of his death, which occurred a few years ago, his son, H. H. Lemmon, took up the burden, and under his management the home is accomplishing great results. Briefly outlined:

It receives children from any part of the country, free of all charge. It charges no fee for placing them out in private families.

It receives not only the well and strong who can readily be placed for adoption in private families, but it receives the afflicted—those little deformed and twisted ones whom nobody wants, and for whom the state makes no provision, except the poorhouse.

It does not separate families of young children, believing it to be cruel and unnecessary to take these defenseless little ones and send one here and one there. They are trained and educated here until homes can be found for them, together.

The home does not employ any agents or representatives. It depends entirely for its support upon the voluntary contributions of those who sympathize with orphan, destitute and afflicted children. The friends of the institution are its only agents, who perform their services in its behalf joyfully and freely, rejoicing that they have the privilege of helping in a cause which has benefited thousands during the twenty-five years of its existence, and has constantly under its care an average of two hundred children and aged, many of whom are seriously afflicted.

The home attempts to give these dependent ones a home in every sense of that word. While they have their regular hours for different lines of work and study, yet they have their hours of play, and all unnecessary and irksome rules and restrictions are unknown. Yet in spite of this, we believe that the thousands of people who visit the home annually will testify to the splendid behavior of the children, their progress in school work, and their remarkable knowledge of the Bible. There have been statements published that nineteen out of twenty dependent children are incorrigible. This statement is not only an injustice to the children, but is certainly not correct. Out of the more than four thousand children who have come under the care of this institution, we have been compelled to commit but four children to the reform school because of incorrigibility.

The orphanage has found homes for more than 4,000 children, and is always crowded to overflowing. This is the kind of work which appeals to all philanthropic hearts, and is entitled to liberal support.

DEFEAT OF HENEY

The defeat of Francis J. Heney, in San Francisco yesterday, is significant, for it means that the city has deliberately decided that graft is a blessing and therefore grafters must be protected.

Heney of national reputation as a prosecutor applied to the office of district attorney. His election meant the completion of reform work in which he has been engaged for the past two years. It also meant the prosecution and exposure of a lot of men who did not propose to be thus exposed, and so a fund of $1,000,000 was raised to defeat the man they feared.

For the past two years the city of San Francisco has been in the hands of the Civic Federation. Many reforms have been inaugurated and for the first time in many years the wide open town was taught to respect the law.

After the earthquake the discovery was made that the city was not only cursed with grafters, but also that union labor was so completely in control that all industries were paralyzed. With the conviction of Huey and Schultz, the outlook was promising for improved conditions, but today the city is back in its old ruts. The voters said at the polls yesterday: "We prefer graft and vice to honesty and are content to let organized labor run the city to suit itself."

McCarthy, the man elected mayor, has been head and front of labor unionism in San Francisco for fourteen years. He is 46 years old and came to America in 1881. He was a carpenter and in 1891 organized the San Francisco Building Trades council, of which he has been president ever since.

McKart is a clever young lawyer who was put up by the republicans to oppose Heney. He was endorsed by the union labor party and his vote shows a revolution of feeling against Heney.

The Civic league attempted to carry Heney into office by inducing Leonard, democratic candidate for mayor, but they failed in this and really succeeded in electing McCarthy by splitting the republican vote.

San Francisco has taken a backward stride from which it will not recover in a decade. While other cities are exhausting every effort to advance the cause of civic righteousness this city on the coast has returned to wallow in the mire. The discovery will be made in time that while earthquakes are hard competition, moral leprosy is far from inviting.

The city of Tacoma, Washington, recently adopted the commission plan of government by a vote of four to one, but strange to relate, 75 per cent of the voters were too indifferent to vote on the question. This sort of indifference is the weakness of many cities, and accounts in large measure for inefficiency in municipal government. If the commission plan succeeds in Tacoma it will be in spite of the don't-care disposition of the citizens.

The election in New York resulted in a queer combination. Gaynor, the Tammany candidate for mayor, is a lonesome winner, for the balance of the ticket was snowed under, and the billion-dollar fund, to be spent by the new administration, will be handled by republicans and fusionists. Hearst succeeded in making a dent in the landscape, without seriously damaging the scenery. New York is to be congratulated.

"Uncle Joe" Cannon had a sleeper all to himself, coming up from the south. He earned so loud that other passengers left the car and waited at Memphis for the next train. "Uncle Joe" usually does things in a wholehearted way.

Tom Johnson of Cleveland was also a loser in the battle of ballots yesterday. The Cleveland people are a little weary of Johnson as a reformer, and the city will lose nothing in his retirement.

THE POET PHILOSOPHER
By WALT MASON
(Copyright, 1909, by George Mathews Adams.)

You may hear Jimmie crying; who is sobbing, who is sighing, for her life seems but and empty, and she is the old who yearns for higher REMEDY Things; who would win a reputation that would cover all creation; and her mother from the woodshed all the coal and kindling bring. Little Willie is disgusted, for his golden dreams are busted, and he finds the world he lives in is the worst of horrors; he is gazing from the emerald in a sort of self-abasement, while his daddy spades the garden and is doing other chores. This old world is gay and festive, and the dreamers who grow restless, saying it's a cheap delusion, built to bother and toirk, might forget their woe and walling, and reproaches unavailing, if they'd shed their outer garments and get down to earnest work. Dreams are idle, dreams are lazy, and the girl is simply lazy who goes round the house yawning when she ought to sweep the floor; and the lily-fingered Willie seems too blameworthy and silly, when, because he missed connections, he is sure the world's a bore!

PRESS COMMENT.

Badly Hurt.
Again, the Outlook comes in for just criticism by the Milwaukee News. "A resident of Oshkosh objects to an assertion in the Outlook, Theodore Roosevelt, contributing editor, that Oshkosh is in Michigan. This nature faking by religious journals is painful, but the state pride of Oshkosh is fine to behold."

Fight It Out.
The Wausau Record-Herald says that many friends of Hon. W. H. Myron throughout this district are urging him to become a candidate for congress against Hon. E. A. Morse, the present congressman from the Tenth. Mr. Myron has thus far refused to consider the matter, but it is believed that if the pressure gets strong enough he will decide to enter the field.

Sure Thing!
The Green Bay Gazette states: "There is no doubt, but that John Strang is a candidate for the republican nomination for governor. He took occasion in Madison this week to again place before the people of the state the fact that he was still in the race and means to stay there."

Or Who They Ask.
The Oshkosh Northwestern writes: "A Chicago girl has sued a prominent physician of that city, claiming $50,000 damages for injuries received as the result of an automobile wreck, caused by the doctor insisting on trying to pass another machine at a reckless speed. If such a precedent is established it may incline many drivers to be more careful of the safety of persons who consent to ride with them."

No Profit.
The Berlin Journal has a good one in the following: "A story is told of a Ripon man, where they are raising considerable cabbage of late. It is stated he bought cabbage plants at one cent each last spring. This fall he sold the matured cabbages at one cent each. He had the fun of raising the cabbages. Maybe this year isn't true and then again it may be. It passed for a good story, anyhow."

Yes, Two of Them.
The Wausau Record says: "In 1867 large packing trucks were necessary for packing the enormous quantities of the fashionable women with a tiny box carried by hand. Today a tiny box will carry the gown while an enormous packing truck is necessary for the hat."

No Race Suicide.
According to the Madison Journal, Senator Tom Morris has six sons, so if he doesn't become governor himself, there are a half dozen other chances of the Morris name eventually being affixed to the statutes.

No Nor Be One.
According to the Eau Claire Leader, Lieutenant Governor Strang has been acting governor of Wisconsin during the absence of Governor Davidson.

The Oshkosh Northwestern cordially endorses the acting executive's administration. It is not everybody who can even look like a governor.

True, Alas!
Noenah's News tells a sad but true fact. "Some girls will split pens with a silver pin and put on more airs than a rural jay—when their sweethearts are around. Let him leave the parlor and shut the door and go home and they will go into the kitchen and eat cornbread and cabbage enough to founder a mule."

Good Idea.
It is learned from the Milwaukee Sentinel that a Wisconsin inventor is working on an aeroplane that will come to the ground when he touches a button. Many inventors have a way of coming down without such a device.

Do Not Be Too Sure!
The Antigo Journal is confident on many subjects and says: "We will wager our reputation for accuracy against a seat in the United States senate that the gubernatorial fight in this state next year will be a very tame affair."

Meant Kalamazoo Perhaps.
Menasha's Outlook digs at the Outlook by saying: "Some writer for The Outlook has placed Oshkosh in Michigan. Oshkosh naturally objects. If that writer should ever be located in Oshkosh the boys would reverse things and have fun with him."

How About Boston.
Again, the Milwaukee Journal has discovered something and says: "An old man 'Wiscoway' big fair to become a stock phrase, when it has been learned that Wisconsin was the first land to appear in this country."

Goodness Gracious.
According to the Marinette Eagle-Star, Fond du Lac has the record, and outside of Montana and Winnebago there are no communities which will undertake to beat it. At a wedding party given in that city this week the guests danced sixteen hours.

The Russian Dynasty.
The present dynasty of Russia is the house of Rumanoff, founded by Czar Michael Fedorovitch Rumanoff, who reigned the throne in 1613. The Rumanoffs are descended from Andrew Kobyla, who came from Prussia to Moscow in 1314.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

GOING SOME.

About a quarter of a century ago Jules Verne wrote his tale "Around the World in Eighty Days," and people read it and smiled and said it was a fantastic dream.

Recently two Chicago schoolboys sent out by a newspaper to break the record glided the globe in 40 days, 17 hours and 5 minutes.

The rapid transit dream of Jules Verne was cut almost exactly in half. With a single exception—a special train from New York to Chicago—these boysish circumnavigator used the ordinary means of travel, though of course they were wily to make close connections.

The record thus made will stand—until some one makes a better. The facilities for travel throughout the world, as shown by the quick trip of the Chicago boys, illustrates the progress of humanity in a quarter of a century. And year by year man harnesses up the forces of nature in a new way and compels them to carry him more rapidly from place to place.

What of the future? Will our present mile a minute average of train speed be made obsolete?

Surely! Our new era is the era of aerial navigation. Within a few years the sky will be dotted with aeroplanes and dirigible balloons carrying their precious cargoes of passengers and fast freight.

Electricity or some new power not yet dreamed of will propel the sky ships.

And some day not too far distant from us it will be possible to take a trip around the earth with the sun always shining overhead!

Did you read how the other day six men were flying in the air simultaneously at Milwaukee?

Did not that spectacle make you stop and think and philosophize—and prophesy?

There are wonderful things in the brains of the boys of today, to be brought out and perfected by the future vicars of the schools and shops and laboratories. The impossible of today is the fact of tomorrow.

You may just as well make up your mind to the fact that in a comparatively short time aerial transportation will be as common and as easy as auto-mobiling.

MYSTERY SHROUDS DEATH OF A MAN

Reported Suicide Is Thought to Have Been Murdered.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Manitowoc, Wis., Nov. 3.—Reported a suicide, the body of Rich Wilkowsky, a former Manitowoc man, is en route here from Hurley for burial. Relatives will demand an investigation as a mystery is said to shroud the death. Wilkowsky was 35, single, and a railway contractor and was negotiating a contract for box when he met death. The authorities at Hurley have been asked to look into the case and if no satisfaction can be obtained a brother of the dead man will go there to investigate.

Charged with selling liquor to minors, O. Goodie, a saloon man, was fined $10 and costs in municipal court and it is said the police department will ask that his license be revoked. Goodie pleaded guilty to the charge and is said to have no idea that his license might be demanded. He is a new comer to the city. The case is the first conviction secured by the police in a crusade started some time ago.

The paving craze has hit the town hard and the end is not yet. Following ordering of paving for Washington and Quay streets, the council has now been asked to pave Commercial street, three blocks; Tenth street, five blocks; Jay street, three, and South Ninth, two. The streets are all in the downtown section and business men are behind the movement for paving the streets.

In appreciation of the tribute to the city in the naming of the government tug Engineer, "Manitowoc," business men have raised a purse of $200 and will present a flag to the boat and a service may also be tendered. The boat is the private boat of U. S. Engineer Irwinwell, used in making trips to ports of the district, and the name was changed from Engineer to Manitowoc at request of Mr. Brimwell, who succeeded Major W. V. Judson, Capt. Mosher and a government crew are here to complete work on the harbor.

Moonlight Blindness.
Moonlight most intense sometimes causes sore eyes in Cuba, and the natives navigate and perambulate with umbrellas and parafans. This very obstinate affection is cured by washing the eyes with moonlight-fallen dew, so the inimitable Frank Steinhard, former consul general to Cuba, said. Not so strange a joke and cure after all, for such dew has been found to be radioactive and electric.

FIREMEN'S BALL AT CUT-OFF CITY SOON

Firemen of Cut-Off City Planning Affair at Magee's Opera House on November 12.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

EVANSTON, Nov. 2.—The twenty-fifth annual firemen's ball will be given in Magee's opera house Friday evening, November 12. Messrs. Roy Gillman, Alie Fellows, E. H. Libby, Ben Hly, Will Diven and S. T. Bishop have been named as the floor committee. The Knott and Hatch orchestra will furnish the music for the dance and will give a concert from eight to nine o'clock. Visiting firemen in uniform will be admitted free.

D. P. Heddles and family have been enjoying a visit from his mother, Mrs. Heddles of Edgerton, and in her honor entertained a family gathering on Sunday. Their guests included Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Heddles and daughter of Madison, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart H. Heddles of Janesville, and Mrs. Della Willson of Edgerton.

Clifford Pearsall and Forest Durner were in Beloit, Saturday, to visit friends and business the football game between Beloit and Union colleges.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Harward are entertaining their cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer McClaffin of Wellington, Ohio. A little son was born to Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Ware, Monday, Nov. 1.

Mr. B. Fish of Broadhead was a business caller here yesterday. The seminary students who board at the dormitory enjoyed a party there Saturday evening and the other members of the school went to the park with well-filled baskets and had a "spread."

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Tyrer and son are spending this week with Dodgeville relatives.

Bert Holmes of Beloit college was an over Sunday visitor at home.

Howard Keefe has been paying a short visit to relatives in Trempealeau, Wis.

Mrs. T. W. North will go to Clinton, Thursday, to attend the thirty-sixth annual meeting of the Janesville district of W. E. M. S. of the M. E. church. On Thursday afternoon she will give a paper on the "Story of Forty Years."

Louis Able, who was sent to Lake Mills to fill a vacancy, has returned to Evansville and will take his old position in the depot.

The Tourist club will meet at the home of Miss Pearl Van Vleet next Tuesday evening. The year's work will consist of the study of modern dramatists.

The Junior class of the E. H. S. will give a party in the opera house this evening.

John Guering was a recent visitor in Dodgeville.

R. M. Richmond is a business visitor in Janesville today.

Mr. Sadler, a Janesville architect, was in this city Monday.

Mrs. H. D. Hendricks went to Baraboo today for a brief visit.

Mrs. Allen Baker is a visitor in Janesville today. George Bulley was in Dodgeville to spend Sunday with his parents. The high school, grades and kindergarten will be closed Thursday and Friday of this week to give the teachers an opportunity of attending the annual meeting of the Wisconsin Teacher's association in Milwaukee.

WISCONSIN MEN IN PROMINENT PLACES

Wisconsin Railway Commission Reorganized at the National Meeting.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 3.—The members of the Wisconsin railroad commission will figure prominently in the convention of the National Association of Railway Commissioners at Washington on November 16. Each of the three officials—Chairman B. H. Meyer, Halford Erickson and John H. Hooper, as well as the secretary, J. M. Winterthorn—is on a committee, reports of which will be made to the association.

Because Wisconsin was a pioneer in railroad rate legislation its representatives have been assigned work of great importance, and from their reports on the transportation problem recommendations are expected to come which will have an important bearing on congressional legislation.

Prof. Meyer is chairman of the special committee which has been appointed by President Decker of New York to report on amendments to the act to regulate commerce. Commissioner Erickson is a member of two important committees—car service and demurrage, and construction and operating expenses of electric railways. Commissioner Hooper is a member of a committee which is to make a report on uniform classification.

Secretary Winterthorn is on the committee on grade crossings and trespassing on railroads. In view of the plan of the administration to urge the enactment of legislation this winter for a separation of the judicial and administrative powers of the interstate commerce commission, there is more than the usual interest in the forthcoming annual convention of railway commissioners.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

DON'T you keep your house in winter as warm as it is outdoors on the average summer day?

Then when you are planning your winter wardrobe maybe you will be interested in what an excellent physician once said to me, "I can't see why people buy such heavy clothes to wear indoors in the winter," he marvelled. "It is just as warm in my living room in winter as it is in the average summer weather, so I wear about the same underwear and the same kind of a suit in winter as I do in summer. Then I buy the heaviest coat I can possibly get to put on when I go out where it really is cold. And that seems to me the only logical way."

It does to me too, but my conscience compels me to present the other point of view.

I asked another doctor about it and she said she thought it was a bad plan because one could not get the same warmth from a heavy coat as one could from heavy underclothing that came next to the skin.

Since doctors disagree I don't dare to advise a complete adoption of the plan, but I do think that to argue one's under and outer clothing with more attention to the atmosphere in which it is to be worn and not merely the name of the season it is purchased for would be sensible.

Why not try this winter having your underclothing a bit lighter and your outer coat rather heavier than you usually do, and see how it works?

An outdoor club—with one idea to be out-of-doors!

Have you such a club in your community? If not why don't you start one?

For they are about the jolliest kind of organization I know of and really very "correct" besides.

The ones I am familiar with meet once in two weeks. That is optional, of course. The only qualification for membership is a love for the big outdoor world. The meetings are simply some form of outdoor recreation, sometimes a tramp, sometimes a tennis tournament, sometimes a big canoeing party.

Don't tell me this isn't a good time to start such a club. It's the very best. Most people stay out doors in summer a good deal anyway, but it takes something special to get them out in winter.

And if you don't think you can find enough to do in the winter months here are some suggestions from the program of my club: 10c hot and cold barbecue in November, snowshoeing, skating, skating and sleighing parties as soon as ever the conditions are right and always beautiful long invigorating tramps.

The Christmas gift that fills a niche, however small, the fairy godmother kind of gift that grants some desire, however simple it may be, is the gift that one will remember long after more expensive but less appropriate ones are forgotten.

Why not give that kind?

A pencil and notebook and two ears kept wide open to catch suggestions these next two months will do it for those around you.

And an appeal to the relatives of your distant friends will probably settle that end of it.

It doesn't take an awful lot of effort to be a fairy godmother in a small way, and it's really a lot of fun.

Ruth Cameron

HINTS FOR THE HOME

Five commandments for baby's mother.

Keep the child clean and sweet. Feed him well but do not over-feed. Most children are made dyspeptics in the cradle than are starved. See that his clothes are loose and do not bind any where.

Do not have the room in which he sleeps too warm. Better a cold room than one which is stuffy. Colds come from overheating more than from being cold.

Never allow him to be over-excited by visitors or adoring relatives. This is the hardest commandment of all to obey. The natural pride of the mother makes her "show off" the poor child just as the smaller mother parades her dolly. It takes a great deal of self-command and self-denial for precocious children are the fashion and it is hard to not follow the lead and so seem to have a stupid child.

If the baby is allowed to grow like a vegetable for the first few months he will store up enough vitality to successfully ward off the many ills that await him a little further up the road he is travelling.

Remember that a vegetable will not grow without plenty of fresh air and sunshine, plenty of the proper kind of nourishment, and no overstimulation, and rest. We never think of digging up a plant to see how it is growing, but we do rather incline to dig up the baby's roots and it makes a sorry business of what nature intended to be a simple process.

SOUTH FULTON.

South Fulton, Nov. 1.—The Ladies' Aid society will meet with Mrs. R. N. York next Thursday morning, Nov. 4th.

Mrs. Clara Nooy and sister, Miss Knight of Beloit, and little Grace, spent Sunday at Jas. Thompson's.

The social at Mr. Grunzel's last Thursday was fairly well attended and a pleasant time enjoyed.

Miss York is at home this week.

Marjorie Thompson of Fulton spent Saturday and Sunday with his cousin, Johnnie and Freddie.

Changes in Men's Dress.

According to the opinion of Mr. Thornton, who presided at a recent conference of the foreman tailors of London, men's dress will soon undergo a great change, and the present styles will give away to "more classic garments."

Knee breeches and fancy waistcoats will be introduced, and the superiority of these garments over today's long trousers and waistcoats will insure their popularity.

A Russian nobleman who visited London a few weeks ago said that he cared little whether the style was introduced or not; he would adopt it. Two things were necessary, he said, "shapely calves and courage." He took with him 48 waistcoats made of various patterns of embroidered silk.

AN IMPRESSIVE AND BEAUTIFUL WEDDING

Ceremony United Miss Corn Soverhill and Starr Atwood at Presbyterian Church Last Evening.

Miss Corn Porter Soverhill and Charles Starr Atwood were the principals in an impressive and beautiful wedding ceremony performed at the First Presbyterian church at eight o'clock last evening.

The interior of the house of worship had been hung with a heavy tapestry of southern silks and autumn tints, interspersed with chrysanthemums, and a profusion of flowers and greenery banked the pulpit.

As a prelude, Miss Willa Soverhill gave an exquisite violin rendition from the opera, "Largo," and the choir, to an organ accompaniment by Mrs. F. E. Lewis, sang the Lohengrin wedding march as the bride party moved down the left aisle of the church.

Miss Lalla Soverhill, sister of the bride and maid of honor, was crowned in green crepe over green silk and carried a bouquet of roses.

The bridesmaids, Misses Soverhill were bridesmaids. Their costumes were of white net and white muslin and each carried pink roses.

The bride was attired in white mesaline silk with lace and pearl trimmings and wore a tulle veil caught up with bridal roses and carried a bouquet of the same beautiful blossoms.

Master Frederick Taylor was ring-bearer. The groom was attended by his brother, Leo Atwood, as best man and also by Victor Whitton and Lawrence Duty of Chicago. The best man and Fred and Howard Green, John Harlow, and H. Stowe Lovejoy acted as ushers.

Rev. J. W. Laughlin read the service in front of the pulpit and as a recessional the choir rendered the Mendelssohn wedding march.

The Washington street home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Soverhill, was decorated with amaranth, pink chrysanthemums, and other ferns and flowers for the reception which followed and an elaborate wedding supper was served. The bride and groom departed on a late north-bound train for a brief honeymoon trip.

Among the out-of-town guests present at the nuptials were: Miss Lucy Fox of Madison, Mrs. Ida Kelly of Rockford, Mrs. Florence De Forest of Cleveland, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Atwood of Minneapolis, Miss Susan Porter of Racine, Mrs. Ethel Brooks of Milwaukee, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dearborn, Mr. and Mrs. Don Holloway, and the Misses Anne De Forest and Bessie Pugh of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Burle, Allan Earle, and Miss Edna Allen of Elberton; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Porter, Mr. and Mrs. John Porter, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Porter, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Porter, Joseph Porter, Jr., Warren, Porter, Mrs.

Alex. Richardson, Mrs. P. C. Richardson, Robert and Lyle Richardson, all of Evansville; and Miss Calla Lacy of Louisville.

"Advertising is not an exact science; it never has been and it never will be. The psychology of an individual man or of a nation is too complex to be predicted with exactness. But—advertising is becoming more and more scientific and less guesswork. It is becoming more and more possible to figure out probabilities. Experience is showing more and more the working of what may be called advertising laws."—Curtis Publishing Company.

Chiropractor to Open Branch Office in Janesville

Raymond Puddicombe, Graduate Chiropractor, to Open Offices at 414-416 Hayes Block

R. Puddicombe, who has been exceptionally successful in removing the "cause" of diseases and who already has a large patronage in Janesville, will come to this city so as to make it convenient to receive adjustment. Beginning Monday, November 8th, the office hours in Janesville will be from 8:00 a. m. to 12:00 m. every day except Sundays.

WHY SUFFER WITH DISEASE? THE CHIROPRACTOR KNOWS. A WAY FOR YOU TO BE WELL. WHY NOT LET HIM TELL YOU?

Years of suffering with seemingly no help possible has made many people skeptical of any claim to conquer disease. I do not blame them, but an earnest desire to be well should at least prompt the sufferer to make an investigation. That's what I ask you to do. Come and let me prove to you what the Chiropractic Science (pronounced Ki-ro-prak-tik), the new way of removing disease, will do for you.

We call it new, but it's old. It has existed since the first man needed relief from the first pain, evidence of some unnatural condition. That it is not better known today is the fault of individuals and not of the Science, for it's so plain, natural and sensible that it proves its own case.

If you suffer with any disease; if you have tried medicine, doctors and nostrums; if you feel that your case is hopeless and good health gone forever, I offer you a way to be well. What's better still, I prove my claims by my work and the ones who are to you well and happy through the wonderful Chiropractic Adjustments by which they are made well, are still better proof of my claims. If you are a sick man or woman come to my office and investigate my claims. Is it not worth that effort to know of a certain way to be well and keep well?

Consultation and examination free. Call early as time is limited.

RAYMOND PUDDICOMBE

Graduate Chiropractor.

Facts For Sick Women

We know of no other medicine which has been so successful in relieving the suffering of women, or secured so many genuine testimonials, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In almost every community you will find women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Almost every woman you meet has either been benefited by it, or knows some one who has.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing over one million one hundred thousand letters from women seeking health, in which many openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved many women from surgical operations.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is made exclusively from roots and herbs, and is perfectly harmless.

The reason why it is so successful is because it contains ingredients which act directly upon the female organism, restoring it to healthy and normal activity.

Thousands of unsolicited and genuine testimonials such as the following prove the efficiency of this simple remedy.

Minneapolis, Minn.:—"I was a great sufferer from female troubles which caused a weakness and broken down condition of the system. I read so much of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other suffering women, I felt sure it would help me, and I must say it did help me wonderfully. Within three months I was a perfectly well woman."

"I want this letter made public to show the benefits to be derived from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound." Mrs. John G. Moldan, 2115 Second St. North, Minneapolis, Minn.

Women who are suffering from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

CHAPTER XI.

FOR a long time Mrs. Brooks stood gazing in silence at her husband, her heart rent with conflicting emotions. Her happiness of the past few months, then, had been built upon the precarious foundation of penitence. Oh, the horror! Oh, the shame of it! On the very morrow the name she bore would be held up to disgrace and derision. He would be cast into prison. The misery of their struggles with poverty was as nothing compared with that of their sudden downfall.

Numbed though her heart was with the shock, shrunk by the terror of their ghastly position, it was yet not impervious to pity, and the hopeless wretchedness of her husband inspired it. She thought of how he had lavished his attentions upon her, how he appeared to be moved by the one desire to make her comfortable and happy.

She went to him and put her hand on his head, smoothing his hair. "Oh, Joe! Oh, my boy!" she said brokenly. "How could you do it? Didn't you know sooner or later you'd be found out? Now I know why you've been interested in the races—you've been betting on the horses."

"I—I wanted to get the money back," he sobbed.

"But didn't you know you couldn't? Oh, why didn't you leave things as they were—the fact, the struggle and all that? Why did you bring me here and show me all this—this happiness—this money that you stole?"

His sobbing ceased, and he pushed her away and rose.

"That's right. You call me a thief! If there was one person in the world I thought I could turn to it's you, and you turn on me!"

"Joe, you mustn't say that. I haven't turned on you. Only I can't help but think—"

"What? That man Williams drove me to taking money?"

"Drove you?"

"Yes, he did. He went away so I could take it. I expected you to stand by me. Do you know the hole I'm in?"

There are three central offices men downstairs watching. If I make a move I'll be nabbed. It's all very well for you to stop and preach—you always were so d—d sanctified—but what of me? That's the question—what of me?"

He thumped his breast violently.

She drew back, hurt by his reproaches.

"If I thought you were yourself I'd never forgive you for saying that to me," she declared.

"I'm not asking your forgiveness, nor your mother's, nor your sister's. What I want now is somebody to help me out. I don't want to go to jail. It would kill me."

"Do you think I want you to go to jail? Do you think I want the disgrace?"

"The disgrace—that's all I knew that would come sooner or later, but I didn't think it would come from you. There's always somebody to hammer that into a fellow when he's down."

"I'm not trying to hammer anything into you. What I want to know is what can be done, what are we going to do?"

"I don't know—unless—"

"Unless we can get the money to pay back. There's a chance."

"That won't do. It's too much. He hasn't got it. Besides, it's too late. Williams means business. He wouldn't take the money. He's not that kind."

"Oh, if I only knew a way—if I could only help!"

She wrung her hands and sank hopelessly into a chair by the table.

Brooks paced the room restlessly, like a wild animal in a cage. Now and then he shot a peculiar, furtive glance in the direction of his wife. Finally he sat opposite to her, leaned toward her on the table and said in a low, intense voice:

"If anything is to be done it's got to be done tonight. Emma, Williams is the only man. You can square it with him."

"Can?"

"Yes, and no one but you."

"What can I do?"

He looked at her meaningly.

"He likes you."

Startled, she returned his gaze inquiringly.

"Yes, he does," he went on. "He at least likes you."

She looked at him with a new interest.

"You can make him give us money," she said.

"I wonder how I ever made the mistake of thinking you even half a man," she said.

This scathing denunciation made no impression on his deadened sense of honor and decency.

"You can't dodge the responsibility with those speeches," he replied, shrugging his shoulders. "I've gone wrong for you. What are you going to do? Do square with me and take this chance—an easy chance—and you know you're safe."

She did not answer, but stood there, her face set in its expression of abhorrence and indignation, deliberating as

He's liked you for years. That's why he hangs around. I've seen it and heard what he said tonight about what he'd do for a girl like you. He meant that, Emma. He'll do anything you ask him if—if you go to him right."

Beginning to understand what he wanted of her, she rose slowly, incredulous horror in her eyes. He rose also and went toward her.

"He's home now," he urged eagerly. "You can go. No one will know but just Williams, you and me. And you can do more than that—you can make him give us money, more money, to keep on living like this, and there won't be any risk."

She recoiled from him, consumed with rage and shame, her eyes blazing. "I hope I don't understand aright!" The words came in quivering gasps.

"You mean me to go to his apartment tonight to see him—and—"

"No one will know the difference," he coaxed softly. "You can handle him all right. Besides, you know how far you can let a man go—all women know that."

"Oh, I can't believe I'm listening to you! A husband to ask a wife—"

She stopped, pressing her cheeks between her clenched hands, appalled at his infamy.

"Then you won't do it?" he cried angrily. "You won't come to the front? I suppose you don't think I ought to ask. Why shouldn't I? Who did I steal the money for? I did it because you made me!"

"That's a lie!"

"You know it's the truth. When I married you your father was to help me, and he died, and then you had to do your own work, and you whined and complained."

"That's another lie!"

"Oh, you never said so in so many words, but I saw it—for four years around the house. I saw you sighing and moaning because you didn't have enough to live on. Then there were that mother of yours and your sister—they never stopped. Every moment of your life was a mute protest against our poverty—yes, it was, and you know it. Do you remember that night when you said you couldn't go to the theater because you didn't have clothes? That was the first time I took money. That's when I began."

"You knew I wouldn't have gone if I had known."

"But you did go—you kept on going, and I kept on stealing for you. God, how I've suffered for you, for the clothes on your back. Every night has been a nightmare. Now I'm going to jail, you know that. I'm going up there on the river for years because you won't do your part."

"I can't do what you want."

He became saturnally persuasive again.

"Why can't you?" he urged. "Other women have for less reason—one to get control of a transcontinental railroad for her husband. I've risked everything for you. If you go there tonight I won't go to jail; I won't be hauled into court; no one will know but the three of us. No one will think the less of you. I've gone through the limit for you; it's up to you to go through for me."

"Then if you go to jail you mean that I've sent you there?"

"Yes, and down in your heart you know you have."

Every instinct of her pure womanhood, every fiber of her flesh, revolted at this cynical exhibition of his villainy. She contemplated him with loathing.

"Now that I see you, naked in all your nasty meanness, your contempt—"

She wrote her hands and sank hopelessly into a chair by the table.

Brooks paced the room restlessly, like a wild animal in a cage. Now and then he shot a peculiar, furtive glance in the direction of his wife. Finally he sat opposite to her, leaned toward her on the table and said in a low, intense voice:

"If anything is to be done it's got to be done tonight. Emma, Williams is the only man. You can square it with him."

"Can?"

She did not answer, but stood there, her face set in its expression of abhorrence and indignation, deliberating as to the best course to pursue toward this unspeakable villain to whom she was bound and who watched her with anxious, cringing eyes.

She addressed him finally in cold, harsh tones: "Whatever I may do or promise to do, I promise simply because you blame me."

"I know you'll!"

"Don't make the mistake that I care for you. Whatever I felt for you, and I thought it was love, you've measured in the last ten minutes. But I don't want you to go to jail pointing a finger of accusation at me."

"Then you'll be square—you'll help—you'll—"

"You understand that if I bargain with Captain Williams for your freedom I make the bargain."

"I know. I'll never ask."

"It will be my business alone."

"Yes, just yours."

"Is he home?"

"Yes, I think so. He said he was going there."

"Telephone and ask him if he can see me—now—alone."

He jumped to the instrument, but as his hand grasped the receiver he hesitated, and a flush suffused his white, drawn cheeks, brought there by the first true consciousness of the enormity of his crime. She was standing right behind him. He took down the receiver.

"Seven-six-eight-four Bryant," he called.

Makes Body Magnet

Nerves Like Steel

Remarkable Discovery That Gives

Intense Nerve Strength by Electric Current Through the Body.

Now Obtainable At Drug Stores and Absolutely Guaranteed.

Wonder of wonders, will they ever cease? For years inventors have been fighting in vain to produce a body magnet. Now it is here. It is now no longer a mystery.

Now come the Electrodes which turn the human body into what might be described as a magnet so strongly that the current cannot be felt even by the person who is using them, yet producing such a powerful force as to turn the weakest nerves into vigorous "wires," and put an end to some of the most obstinate diseases.

The simplicity of Electrodes, as well as their results, are almost incredible. They have an astonishing effect on nerves, weakness, brain tingling, loss of ambition, courage and energy, loss of memory and especially on nervous prostration, rheumatism, neuralgia, kidney trouble, backache, weak heart, liver and stomach troubles, they have already wrought wonders.

Electrodes are worn in the shoes. Aside from this they have no resemblance to any machine you have ever seen or heard of. You never know you are wearing them, and they differ from all other electric appliances in that they have no current until they are put on.

Then they make a magnetic field of the body, with the nerves for conducting wires and a vital force of electricity distributed over the whole body, developing a vigor and strength which is remarkable.

To make this statement true, every pair of Electrodes are sold under a legal binding contract that you are to be fully satisfied at the end of 30 days, or your money will be refunded.

Electrodes are sold at $1.00 a pair, and if you are not satisfied with them according to contract your money will be refunded.

If your drugist does not have Electrodes on hand, send $1.00 to the Electrode Company, 201 E. Second St., Chicago, Ill., and you will get a pair by return mail with a signed contract to fully satisfy you, or positively refund your money. Say whether for lady or gentleman.

with hot milk or cream and a little fruit. If you eat more than the stomach needs you are wasting both money and strength. Overtaxing the stomach impairs digestion, weakens brain power and lays the foundation for disease. Cut out heavy meats and soggy white flour pastries for ten days, eat Shredded Wheat and see how much better you will feel—then tell your friends about it. Your grocer sells it.

Shredded Wheat is made of the choicest selected white wheat, cleaned, steam-cooked and baked. Try it for breakfast to-morrow with milk or cream. The Biscuit is also delicious for any meal in combination with fresh or preserved fruits.

Talks on Snake Culture

No. 39—The Traveling Man

The manager of a wholesale grocery house at Atchison, Kan., casually informed a reporter the other day that the establishment had nineteen traveling men in its employ, and not one of them ever took a drink. If a young man with a star-spangled breast and eyes applied to that manager for a job, how long do you suppose he would last? Just long enough to push him out of the office. Long, long ago, when the world was full of Jolly Good Fellows, and everybody had the hiccoughs, and it was fashionable to go to bed feet first, the high rolling traveling man was the usual thing. It was part of his business to be a Jolly Good Fellow. When he called upon a merchant, his first act was to invite all hands to the full old warehouse, and he was expected to get everybody mellow before he hinted at his business. That sort of traveling man is as much an anachronism nowadays as the town crier, who used to wake people up at 2 o'clock in the morning to tell them what the weather was like. The present day merchant would send a riot alarm to the police station if a commercial traveler with a low-necked jacket called upon him, and tried to sell him goods. And the conditions are similar in all branches of business and industry. The drinking man is down and out; there is no place for him, except the jumping-off place.

The Food of Vim and Energy

One plateful of MOTHER'S OATS will produce more vim and vigor and energy and action—more vitality, more enthusiasm and more endurance, than many times the same bulk of meat, fish, fowl, or cereals of lower food value.

MOTHER'S OATS are different from other's oats and different from ordinary oatmeal. They are put up in sanitary sealed packages. But there's more to MOTHER'S OATS than the package; they are the best oats in the world, the best selection of the best crops. Every batch that comes to our mills is screened and only the ripe, big grains are marketed. They are not only sterilized, but steamed (to burst the protein cells); then rolled (to render the cooking easy), and after that, MOTHER'S OATS are crushed (to hasten their digestion)—easy work for the stove, easy work for the stomach and more work for the man.

There's a coupon in every package of Mother's Cereals. You can collect enough of them in a little while to own a Fireless Cooker for nothing. Your grocer will tell you how to get it free. There are a number of ways and all of them make it worth while to buy Mother's Cereals: Mother's Oats, Mother's Meal (white or yellow), Mother's Wheat Hearts (the cream of the wheat), Mother's Grits, Mother's Corn Flakes (toasted), Mother's Coarse Pearl Hominy, Mother's Old Fashioned Steel Cut Oatmeal, Mother's Old Fashioned Graham Flour.

FIGHT FATAL DUEL AT JACKSON, KY., POLLS

Feudist is Killed in Election Row at Voting Booth in Breathitt County.

Jackson, Ky., Nov. 2.—Election day resulted in a dramatic killing at a voting booth in Spring Ford precinct, Breathitt county.

Here Thelon Blanton, with a left hand shot, instantly killed Demosthenes Noble, after Noble had crippled Blanton's right arm with a bullet. Noble had previously, according to Blanton, placed a pistol at the breast of two of Blanton's brothers. Noble was a member of a powerful feudist family, a former employee of Judge James Harsh, and complications are expected.

Blanton, whose father was a Democratic candidate for county attorney, was acting as challenger, and his story is that Noble was induced to raise a disturbance by discomfited Republicans.

Two shots were fired while Blanton was leaning from the window of the voting place. He was carried into Jackson to the home of his father, and there he died. Blanton's father is the famous Breathitt county character who last year on horseback took the ballots to the Crockettville precinct, when no other man dared make the trip, for fear of an assassin's bullet.

NEBRASKA PEDAGOGUES MEET

Entertaining Program is Arranged for Their Edification.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 3.—The forty-fourth annual meeting of the Nebraska State Teachers' association opened here today with a session of the school officers' section presided over by J. C. Elliot of West Point. The speakers were J. J. Tooley of Anselmo, J. F. Daly of Waver, Charles D. Marr of Fremont and C. E. V. Smith of Denver City. To-morrow, in St. Paul's church, President A. L. Caviness of Fairbury will call to order the first general session.

There will be four banquets this evening, one for state university and college graduates, one for Kearney and Fremont normal graduates, and the fourth for graduates and senior classes from normal training high schools and junior normal schools.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, November 3, 1869.—Handsome Thing.—Conrad Brothers have brought out today the handsome thing in the way of a grocery wagon in this city, decidedly. It was manufactured by S. L. Janes, and is a superior specimen of workmanship. The rig is in very creditable condition to Conrad Brothers and to the maker.

• • • • •
Jettings.—Rock county will soon have to import horses. There is no and to horse stealing around here.

A certain young lady is said to keep a light burning till twelve o'clock Sunday nights, to make believe she has a beau.

The tobacco crop is said to have been quite large in this county this year.

James Miles, while employed on the railroad bridge at Shoppers this morning, was severely injured by a stick of timber falling on him. He was brought to his home in the city.

An Indian trail once passed through Janesville on the thoroughfare now known as Main street.

The Election.—The result of the election in this county does not show as large a majority for the Republican ticket as was expected, and from the indications are that our majority will not be over 2,000 on the State ticket. This is a loss of 1,400 on Grant's vote last fall, and about 400 less than Fairchild had about two years ago. In this city Governor Fairchild has 110 majority—a handsome gain of 138 over his vote of '87—although Robinson ran ahead of his ticket, 24, in the city. Fairchild and Pound ran 7 behind the balance of the ticket. Mr. Spencer did not get a vote as we know of. The vote was unusually light only 1,222 being polled as against 1,616 for Grant. For the Assembly, Alexander Graham, Republican, is elected over Mr. Pease by a majority of 122; F. S. Eldred, Independent Republican, is elected Supervisor over Millmore, by a majority of 127. In the country the vote is still lighter than in the city and some of the towns did not get out much more than half the number of electors. The day was unusually favorable for farm work and as farmers were behind and it is natural that some should refuse to quit business and devote the day to voting. The result of yesterday's work in the county is a majority of 2,000 for the State ticket and the election of five Republican members of the Assembly.

Pleasure in Work Sure Sign.
You may know that you have found your place, if your work is a pleasure to you. If you long for the time to quit, you are on the wrong job. If you go to work with no more delight than you left it, the job belongs to some other man. When you have found your true calling you will not find nature putting barriers in your path of progress.

Political Boss: Well, it begins to look like there was something in this Suffragette movement after all.

HARMONY.
Harmony, Nov. 1.—Charles Doherty and Frank Prox spent Monday in Janesville on business.

Will Melbride is visiting in Manitowish with relatives this week.

Mrs. T. W. Dunphy, Jr., and Mrs. C. Hart of Elroy are spending a few days in Chicago.

Mrs. Wm. Denning and Mrs. Wm. Spencer, both of Janesville, spent Sunday with friends in Harmony.

Miss Kittie Melbride is enjoying a two weeks' vacation from her duties as school teacher.

Miss Mary Melbride expects to attend the teacher's convention, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Swartz spent Thursday in Whitewater.

AMERICAN SHOES IN ENGLAND.
British use of American shoe making machinery and the making of half sizes and various widths has lessened the sale of American shoes in England, or, rather, kept down the expected increase. The American shoe stores in Birmingham and London are doing well, however.

Most Profitable Advertising

The Gazette Want Ads are the most remunerative proposition that I ever had to deal with. I have spent hundreds of dollars a year in other places for advertising purposes, but all things considered, the money I have spent most profitably for advertising purposes has been with the Gazette Want Ad department.

I don't see why you don't have a full page of Want Ads each day. They are a most wonderful medium for GETTING RESULTS.

State Falls as Railroad Owner.

In France the least satisfactory railroad operation is that of the state, and in Germany things go from bad to worse, in spite of the strenuous efforts of the imperial government, with an exceptionally competent and accomplished general staff of superior railroad officials, to get around the increasing difficulties and to make a good appearance.

Home Teaching in Schools.

The ideal teacher, according to the modern standard, would be something of an Admiration Crichton, and it is not possible, of course, to secure all the accomplishments and virtues for each and every school at a small yearly salary. At the same time the needs of the age are developing teachers of a much more highly cultivated and "all around" type than has been the rule before. It devolves upon them, as Mr. Kendall pointed out, to give the child much training that belongs to the home, but inasmuch as not all homes give this and many children would lose the most important part of their equipment if they did not get it in school, nothing is left for the schools but to furnish it.—Indianapolis Star.

Not the Thirteenth Ship.

Four has arisen in the breast of a New Zealander in England caused by the announcement that the Dreadnaught which his native country is to give to the empire will be the thirteenth ship presented to the British navy. However, the Thirteenth gift ship is not the Dreadnaught but the hospital ship Maine, which was fitted up for use in the South African war, and has since served principally in the Mediterranean. The Maine was the gift of Mr. Baker, an American citizen.
